

March 18, 2008

To Whom It May Concern:

I have personally known Frank Spencer III for more than 25 years and have found him to be of excellent character, honest and beyond questionable integrity.

Mr. Spencer, through his firm, Aztec Contractors, designed my home which I recently completed construction of in late 2007.

Mr. Spencer, along with his father, Frank Spencer, visited the site almost daily although they were not the contractors. Their visits kept the contractor on pace, and avoided costly mistakes with their oversight.

Our home is distinctive in design and offered elements we could not have considered if we had used other El Paso firms. Of course, we have received numerous compliments and the ultimate compliment came from our long time El Paso builder, Gaddy Construction, who was very impressed with the final outcome.

It's my opinion that the Housing Authority would not regret selecting the Spencer's and Aztec Contractors to complete any home building project for the city. The choice would be a good one for the taxpayers because their oversight would bring the project in at or below budget while assuring quality construction.

I would not hesitate to choose Aztec again, should I build another home. If I can answer other questions, please do not hesitate to call me.

Sincerely,

Ray M. Stafford
President/Publisher
El Paso Times